

ECOHEALTH

SEMINAR SERIES HEIDELBERG 2011

Can people remain healthy in a world that is

- 27th April: Prof. Jakob Zinsstag,
Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute:
'EcoHealth and One Health - potentials for closer collaboration between disciplines'
- 26th May: Dr. Saravanan Subramanian,
Centre for Development Research, Bonn:
'Water and Human Health: The Interface of Social Sciences'
- 21th June: Webcast with Prof. David Waltner-Toews,
University of Guelph, Canada:
'Ecohealth in a complex world: policy's holy grail?'
- 6th July: Dr. Tobias Plieninger, Berlin-Brandenburg Academy of Sciences:
'Analysis and management of cultural landscapes
for the resilient provision of ecosystem services'
- 19th July: Dr. Thomas Jänisch,
Department of Infectious Diseases, Heidelberg:
'Disease emergence and pathogen pollution as indicators of ill-health'

INF 306
Seminar room 13

18.00 - 19.30 Uhr

"We cannot solve a problem using the same kind of thinking that created it." (Albert

Exploring cross-disciplinary approaches to human, animal and ecosystems health

www.eco-health.de